How we secure your personal data

We take our responsibility to protect your information seriously and use appropriate technical, physical, and organizational measures to safeguard the information that we process through our Websites and Services. The measures we use are designed to provide a level of security appropriate to the risk of processing your personal data. No security system is 100% secure, however, and we cannot guarantee our security measures will not be compromised.

International data transfers

We operate as a global organization with service providers and partners around the world. Your personal data may be transferred to countries with data protection standards that are not equal to the standards in the country where you are located. We put in place appropriate measures to safeguard your personal data when transferring it around the world.

Your personal data may be transferred to, and processed in, countries other than the country in which you reside. These countries may have data protection laws that are different than the laws of your country (and, in some cases, may not be as protective).

The servers that operate or process personal data related to our Services are primarily located in the United States, though personal data also may be transferred to India, Israel, and the countries in which our business is established or our Services are available, and potentially other countries (including our U.S. and international locations here). These include, for example, implementing the UK and European Commission's Standard Contractual Clauses for transfers of personal data between our group companies, which require all group companies to protect personal data that they process from the European Economic Area, Switzerland, and the UK in accordance with data protection laws in those areas. Where appropriate, we also put in place additional safeguards to protect your personal data when it is transferred to countries considered to be less protective.

Service-specific privacy information

This section provides additional details about the personal data that we process when you use the following Services:

- Viasat Browser
- Viasat Voice (CPNI disclosure)
- Alternate Broadband Ventures / Viasat Community Internet (Hosts)
- Viasat Wholesale
- Intelie LIVE (Authorized Users)

Viasat Browser

When you use the Viasat Browser, we automatically collect certain online usage information so that over time the Viasat Internet Hinting Service feature included within the browser provides more accurate hints about URLs of interest for the purpose of enabling faster page loads. We collect and process through the Viasat Internet Hinting Service data including your IP address, network access global unique identifier, app usage and click-stream data (including the app features you engage and the webpages you visit), the webpage URL, the list of objects (e.g., images, text boxes) on the web page, the time for each object to load, whether any failures occurred loading the objects, object meta-data, and whether the object was in the browser cache and whether the domain was in the DNS cache. The click-stream data that we process is relayed from the Viasat Hinting Service and aggregated with clicks to that particular site made by other users of the Service for purposes of optimizing and improving the Service.

Additionally, we process information on the browsing environment such as whether ad blocking is enabled, and information regarding the device CPU, disk, and operating system so that these elements are considered when analyzing web page load performance. We also collect additional information and perform analytics related to your experience with the Service and the performance of your Internet connection to aid in troubleshooting and optimizing the Service.

When providing you with the Service, we also store hashes of the cookie values along with the cookie names for each request and response associated with rendering a specific webpage. To minimize tracking and data collection from cookies, we cryptographically hash cookies with a SHA2 algorithm before they are processed by the Viasat Hinting Service.

Other than as described in this Section, the Viasat Internet Hinting Service data does not process data that you enter into the browser when visiting or interacting with a website, such as usernames and passwords, cardholder data, search engine queries, contact information, or any other user-entered data.

You have the option to temporarily limit the Viasat Hinting Service's access to your information by operating Viasat Connect in incognito mode (ctrl-shift-N). When in incognito mode, Viasat Connect does not communicate with the Viasat Hinting Service, though please note that page load speeds may decrease as a result.

We receive Service crash reports that include data related to the associated incident, which may include personal data that we only use to evaluate the malfunction, make efforts to correct the problem, and improve our products and services to reduce the chance of the malfunction occurring again. In addition, you have the option to send us feedback reports that include data related to your Service usage.

Viasat Voice (CPNI disclosure)
